How To Apply Mineral Foundation

Step 1. Prep your skin

Any makeup goes on better when skin is freshly cleansed and moisturized, especially if your skin is dry. Allow moisturizer to absorb completely, and if you have oily skin, use a foundation primer.

Step 2. Brush up. Or rather, round and round

Use a kabuki brush, which is shorter and denser than a regular brush, so it gives more coverage. Dip the brush into the powder foundation, tap the side of the brush to remove any excess, then use continuous circular motions to apply the powder to your face. Repeat until you've achieved the coverage you want. Use fairly firm pressure. You want to buff the foundation to a smooth, even finish.

Step 3. Go for the finish

If you've got oily skin and are looking for a matte finish, you may want to consider applying Mineral Veil Mattifier. Use light, circular motions with the brush for a pore-less, natural matte effect. Dust it on with a puff or fluffy brush.

Apply the rest of your makeup as usual. Now you're ready for your close-up!

Hot Stuff!

*These amazing, high pigment powders can be used as a translucent glowing eye shadow.

*Use wet with Pinnacle transfix-transformer as an eyeliner. Wet a fine eyeliner brush with trans-fix, pour out a bit of the powder, dab the wet brush into it and draw a shimmer line.

*Mix with hair gel for discretely decorative look.

*Use skin tone shadows on t-zone, cheeks, temples...do not stop there...dust on shoulders or cleavage. Risk it all!

*Mix with body lotion for a super body shine

*INGREDIENTS:Mica & Titanium Dioxide.

MAY CONTAIN: Ferric Ferrocyanide, Carmine, Chromium
